President and CEO

Pekka Lundmark (b. 1963)

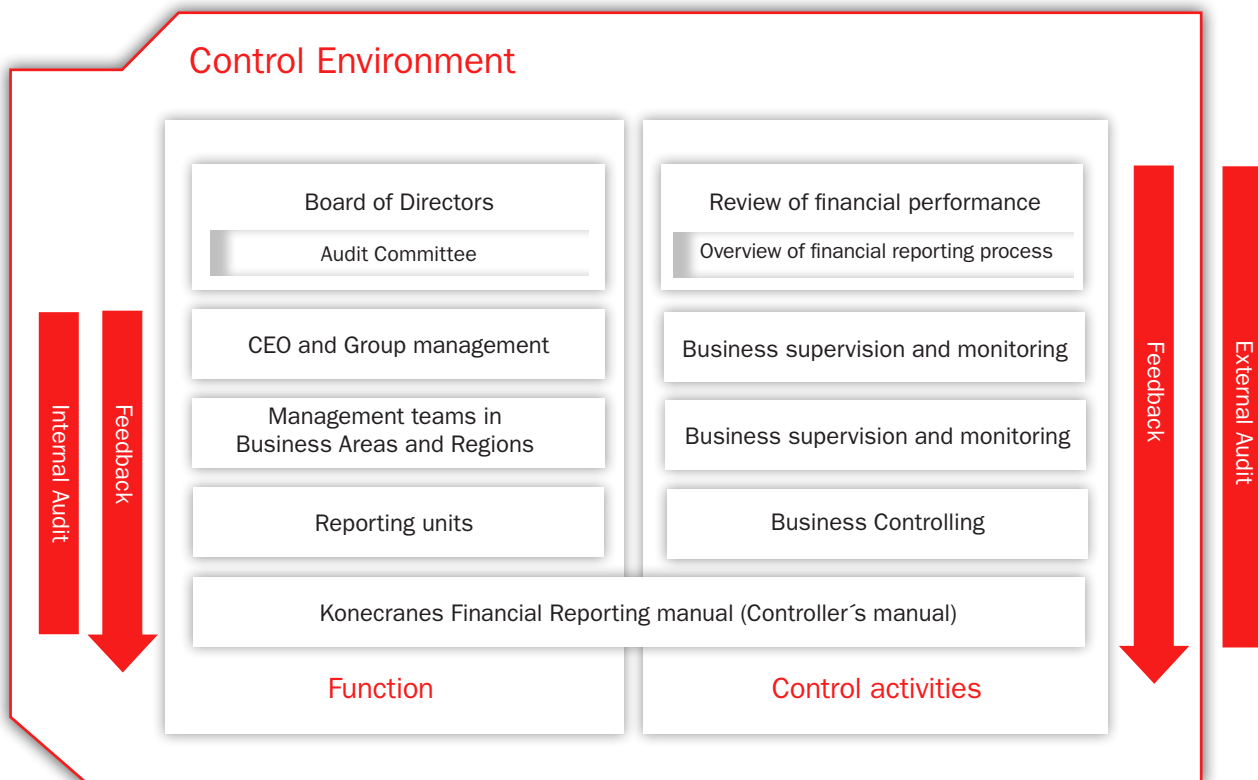

- Education: M.Sc. (Eng.)

Main tasks and duties

Under the Companies Act, the President and CEO is responsible for the day-to-day management of the Company in accordance with instructions and orders given by the Board. The President and CEO may undertake actions which, considering the scope and nature of the operations of the Company, are unusual or extensive, only with the authorization of the Board. The President and CEO shall see to it that the Company's accounting practices comply with the law and that its financial affairs have been arranged in a reliable manner. The President and CEO is also responsible for preparing matters presented to the Board and for the Company's strategic planning, finance, financial planning, reporting, and risk management.

Internal control and risk management related to financial reporting

Internal control related to financial reporting is designed to give reasonable assurance concerning the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, applicable laws and regulations, and other requirements covering listed companies. Risk management is considered an integral part of running the Konecranes business. Konecranes' corporate risk management principles provide a basic framework for risk management, while each Group company or operating unit is responsible for its own risk management. This principle is also followed in risk management related to financial reporting.

Main Features in Internal Control related to Financial Reporting

Internal control and risk management related to financial reporting

Control environment

The Group operates in a matrix organization where one dimension is formed by the two business areas, Service and Equipment. Both business areas are further divided into several business units, supply units, and various support functions. Business areas are responsible e.g. product/service offering and global profitability.

The other dimension of the matrix organization is Market Operations. These front-line operations are managed and controlled through four regions, Americas, APAC, WEMEA (Western Europe, Middle East and Africa) and NEI (Nordic, Eastern Europe and India). Market operations are responsible for e.g. customer interface including sales activities and Service operations.

Financial targets are set and planning/follow up activities are executed in both dimensions of the matrix organizations in accordance with the overall business targets of the Konecranes group. Service business is typically being followed up based on profit responsible service branches and business units whereas Equipment business is mainly being monitored by business units that are further divided into business lines.

Corporate Governance and business management at Konecranes are based on the company's values of trust in people, total service commitment, and sustained profitability. The control environment is the foundation for all the other components of internal control and for promoting employees' awareness of the key issues. It is supporting the execution of the strategy and ensuring regulatory compliance. The Board of Directors and the Group Management are responsible for defining the Konecranes Group's Control Environment through corporate policies, instructions, and frameworks which relate to financial reporting. These include for example the Code of Conduct and the Konecranes Contoller's Manual, which constitutes the main tool for accounting and financial reporting principles in respect of providing information, guidelines, and instructions. The interpretation and application of accounting standards is the responsibility of the Global Finance function. Guidelines and instructions for reporting are updated when necessary and are reviewed at least once a year.

Control activities

Konecranes Group management has operational responsibility for internal controls. Financial control activities are built into the business processes of the Konecranes Group and management's business supervision and monitoring procedures. The Group has identified and documented the significant internal controls that relate to the financial processes either directly or indirectly through other process. The total number of identified financial internal controls is approximately 100. All legal entities and business units have their own defined controller functions. Representatives from controller functions participate in planning and evaluating unit performance, and ensure that monthly and quarterly financial reporting follows the Group's policies and instructions and that all financial reports are delivered on time in accordance with schedules set by the Group. Management follow-up is carried out through monthly management reporting routines and performance review meetings.

Monitoring

The Group conducts an annual self-assessment through its controllers to monitor the effectiveness of selected financial internal controls. The Group has also an Internal Audit function, which is responsible for monitoring and evaluating the effectiveness of the company's risk management and internal control system. Internal Audit plans its work in cooperation with the Audit Committee, which approves an annual internal audit plan. The Audit Committee receives direct reports from external auditors and discusses and follows up their viewpoints. External auditors are also represented at Audit Committee meetings. The Group's financial performance is reviewed at each Board meeting, and the Board of Directors and the Audit Committee review all external financial reports before they are made public.

Communication

The Controller's manual and reporting instructions as well as policies are restored in Konecranes intranet accessible by personnel. Additionally Group, Business Areas and Regions are arranging meetings in which information around the financial processes and practices is shared. Information for the Group's stakeholders is regularly communicated via the Konecranes Group's website. To ensure that the information provided is comprehensive, and accurate, the Group has established a set of external communications guidelines. These define how, by whom, and when information should be issued; and are designed to ensure that Konecranes meets all its information obligations and to further strengthen internal controls related to financial reporting.

Internal control and risk management related to financial reporting

In 2010

Konecranes launched Origo system project to further develop and implement the harmonized processes defined in the previous development programs, to increase visibility into the operations and thus to improve decision making as well as to reduce the number of various IT systems. The internal control environment will be improved by using the common and unified processes and common system platform. Also monitoring the effectiveness of the internal controls will become more transparent after the implementation of the system.
