MARKET OUTLOOK

Leading macroeconomic indicators in Europe and China improved slightly in the third quarter of 2013. However, the growth in industrial production and container traffic is moderate and below the historical averages. The near-term investment outlook within manufacturing and process industries as well as container handling remains uncertain.

FINANCIAL GUIDANCE

Based on the order book and the near-term demand outlook, the year 2013 sales are expected to be slightly lower than in 2012. We expect the fourth quarter 2013 operating profit, excluding restructuring costs, to improve from the previous year. However, we expect the full-year 2013 operating profit excluding restructuring costs to be lower than in 2012.

PRESIDENT AND CEO PEKKA LUNDMARK

"Our third quarter showed mixed signals. The declining cost base showing that our tight spending control is delivering results was positive. Project execution went according to plans. As a result, our operating profit before restructuring costs improved from the second quarter. Service's operating margin before restructuring costs of 9.6 percent was encouraging, and there is further potential for improvement. Equipment's corresponding operating margin of 5.1 percent was low, but much better than in the first half of the year. We expect the improvement of the operating profit to continue in the fourth quarter.

Our issue is now clearly the volume. When we made the decision to lower our cost base by EUR 30 million, the logic behind it was that we did not want to count on market growth to improve profitability. Third quarter order intake was soft, showing that this decision was the right one. Many purchasing managers' indexes have developed well in the last months, and should this trend continue it would most likely start to support our rather late cyclical demand. However, thus far these signs are only scattered at best and our customers' investment outlook remains uncertain.

In addition to taking care of our cost base, we continue to invest in the product development to further strengthen our competitiveness. We call our first key strategic initiative "Industrial Internet", which is making machines intelligent and aware of their own condition, and networking them to create a real-time visibility in terms of their safety and productivity. We have named the second strategic initiative "Emerging Markets Offering", and it is creating completely new product families for the new customer needs in the parts of the world that will represent a major share of the world's future industrial growth. Both initiatives are currently in the process of launching the first products to the market, and there is much more to come."

KONECRANES PLC INTERIM REPORT JANUARY-SEPTEMBER 2013

MARKET REVIEW

In January-September 2013, the U.S. economic data continued to be stronger than in the most of other regions. American factory output, measured by the purchasing managers' index, expanded almost throughout the first nine months of the year. The U.S. manufacturing capacity utilization rate was relatively stable compared with the previous year.

According to the PMI surveys, the Eurozone manufacturing activity was downbeat January-June, but expanded slightly in the third quarter. Correspondingly, the January-September manufacturing capacity utilization in the European Union declined on year-on-year basis, but improved slightly on sequential basis in the third quarter.

Purchasing managers' indexes in Brazil, Russia, India and China signaled expansion of the industrial output at the beginning of 2013, but the growth lost its momentum by the end of the first half. However, the Chinese data pointed again to a slow rise in manufacturing output in the third quarter. Overall, the world's manufacturing sector activity, according to the aggregated JPMorgan Global Manufacturing PMI, increased modestly in January-September, but remained below the long-run survey average.

Compared to the previous year, the demand for lifting equipment and lift trucks decreased on a global basis among industrial customers in January-September 2013. Demand remained on a weak level in Western Europe, China and India. In North America, demand for process cranes slumped after the solid progress in 2012. The demand development was positive in the Middle East.

The global container traffic grew by about 2 percent in the first six months of 2013. The project activity with container ports was satisfactory. The demand was robust for automated solutions that provide higher productivity and lower costs for large terminals. Geographically, the most active markets were North America, South East Asia, Australia, and Africa. Demand was sluggish in Europe. The demand for shipyard cranes continued to be concentrated in Brazil.

The demand for lifting equipment services was overall stable with the regional development reflecting the differences in manufacturing capacity utilization rates.

The trend in steel and copper prices remained downward in January-September 2013. After relatively stable development during the first half of the year, the EUR appreciated against the USD in the third quarter.

Note: Unless otherwise stated, the figures in brackets in the sections below refer to the same period in the previous year.

Orders received fell by 0.6 percent in Service and by 2.9 percent in Equipment compared to a year before. The decline in new orders was mainly attributable to negative currency changes. Orders received decreased in the Americas and EMEA regions, while they increased in AsiaPacific mainly due to a large port crane order received from Indonesia in the first quarter. Acquisitions had an immaterial impact on the orders received in January-September.

Third-quarter order intake fell by 9.9 percent from a year before and totaled EUR 412.9 million (458.0). Order intake decreased in Service by 6.3 percent and by 8.8 percent in Equipment. January-September orders received totaled EUR 1,039.3 million ( $1,070.6$ ) showing a decrease of 2.9 percent. Orders grew in Asia-Pacific due to a large port crane order received from Indonesia in the first quarter, but they fell in the Americas and EMEA. Orders for industrial cranes accounted to approximately 35 percent of the orders received and were lower than a year ago. Components and light lifting systems generated approximately 30 percent of the new orders and were at a last year's level. The combined orders for port cranes and lift trucks amounted to approximately 35 percent of the orders received and were higher than a year ago.

The order book decreased by 8.7 percent to EUR 849.0 million (930.2) from a year before and was 5.8 percent lower than the end-June 2013. Sales fell by 4.6 percent to EUR 964.3 million (1,011.1). The operating profit, excluding restructuring costs of EUR 15.5 million (0.0) booked in the first and third quarters, was EUR 37.1 million (60.6) and the operating margin 3.8 percent (6.0). Operating profit including restructuring costs was EUR 21.6 million (60.3) and 2.2 percent of the sales (6.0). The Equipment operating margin excluding restructuring costs fell due the lower sales, adverse sales mix effects and intense competitive situation. In addition, the Business Area Equipment's operating profit in the second quarter included costs and provisions of approximately EUR 8 million due to the execution issues of mainly heavy-duty industrial crane projects.

The third quarter order intake declined by 8.8 percent and totaled EUR 276.6 million (303.2). Orders received rose in the Americas but fell in EMEA and APAC. The development of Port Cranes had the most positive outcome, whereas orders fell the most in Industrial Cranes.

The third-quarter sales totaled EUR 320.3 million (341.6) and were 6.3 percent lower than a year ago. The operating profit, excluding restructuring costs of EUR 11.2 million (0.0), was EUR 16.3 million (21.9) and the operating margin 5.1 percent (6.4). Third-quarter operating profit including restructuring costs was EUR 5.1 million (21.9), and the operating margin 1.6 percent (6.4). The Equipment operating margin excluding restructuring costs fell due to the lower sales.

Group Overheads

Unallocated Group overhead costs and eliminations were EUR -18.0 million ( -15.3 ) in the reporting period representing 1.2 percent of sales (1.0). These included restructuring costs of EUR 1.6 million (0.0).

RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

Principal short-term risks and uncertainties of the Group derive from a potential renewed downturn in the world economy due, for example, to the sovereign credit crisis. A decrease in the demand for Konecranes' products and services may have a negative effect on the Group's pricing power and may result in a decrease in profits, possible impairment of goodwill and other assets, or in inventory obsolescence.

A renewed shortage of credit may cause difficulties for Konecranes' customers, suppliers, and financial and other counterparties. The risk may be realized as a shortage of supplies or defaulting liabilities. A significant share of Konecranes' business is derived from the emerging markets. This has had a negative impact on the aging structure of accounts receivable, and may increase the need for higher provisions for doubtful accounts.

Challenges in financing may force customers to postpone projects or even to cancel existing orders. Konecranes intends to avoid incurring costs of major projects under construction in excess of advance payments. However, it is possible that in some projects cost-related commitments may temporarily exceed the amount of advance payments.

Group's other risks have remained unchanged and the pivotal risks are presented in the Annual Report 2012.

MARKET OUTLOOK

Leading macroeconomic indicators in Europe and China improved slightly in the third quarter of 2013. However, the growth in industrial production and container traffic is moderate and below the historical averages. The near-term investment outlook within manufacturing and process industries as well as container handling remains uncertain.

FINANCIAL GUIDANCE

Based on the order book and the near-term demand outlook, the year 2013 sales are expected to be slightly lower than in 2012. We expect the fourth quarter 2013 operating profit, excluding restructuring costs, to improve from the previous year. However, we expect the full-year 2013 operating profit, excluding restructuring costs, to be lower than in 2012.

SUMMARY FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND NOTES

Accounting principles

The presented financial information is prepared in accordance with International Accounting Standard (IAS) 34, Interim Financial Reporting, as adopted by the EU.

The introduction of IFRS 11 reclassified one company as joint operation and did not have material impact on financial statements. The standard is adopted retroactively. IFRS 11 uses the principle of control as described in IFRS 10 to define joint control. Joint Arrangements are classified into Joint Operations and Joint Ventures. In Joint Operations the parties with joint control have rights to the assets and obligations for the liabilities of the arrangement. Joint Operations are accounted for showing each party's interest in the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses and / or its relative share of jointly controlled assets, liabilities, revenue and expense, if any. In Joint Ventures the parties with joint control have rights to the net assets of the arrangement. Joint Ventures are accounted for using the equity method.

In 2012 the change increased sales by EUR 1.3 million, depreciation by EUR 0.8 million, other operating expenses by EUR 0,1 million, operating profit by EUR 0.4 million and net profit by EUR 0.1 million. In balance sheet the change mainly increased the retained earnings of 2012 by EUR 2.6 million (EUR 2.4 million in 2011), and increased the short term liabilities by EUR 9.8 million, fixed assets by EUR 5.5 million and inventories by 7.0 million. Prior periods are restated in the Group and in the Equipment business segment.

The figures presented in the tables below have been rounded to one decimal, which should be taken into account when reading the sum figures.

The numbers stated in this bulletin have not been subject to audit.

Contingent liabilities relating to litigation

Various legal actions, claims and other proceedings are pending against the Group in various countries. These actions, claims and other proceedings are typical for this industry and consistent with a global business offering that encompasses a wide range of products and services. These matters involve contractual disputes, warranty claims, product liability (including design defects, manufacturing defects, failure to warn and asbestos legacy), employment, vehicles and other matters involving claims of general liability.

While the final outcome of these matters cannot be predicted with certainty Konecranes is of the opinion, based on the information available to date and considering the grounds presented for such claims, the available insurance coverage and the reserves made, that the outcome of such actions, claims and other proceedings, if unfavorable, would not have a material, adverse impact on the financial condition of the Group.

NOTES

IMPAIRMENTS

Restructuring actions and closure of certain parts of business units have lead to additional impairment testing in two business units: Port Service and Light Lifting, which includes 2012 tested CGU Suomen Teollisuusosa and CGU Konecranes Light Lifting. As a result of the testing total of EUR 4.5 million of Goodwill was written off (Business Unit Port Service EUR 3.5 million and Business Unit Ligth Lifting EUR 1.0 million). At the same time Intangible Assets (mainly customer relations and technology in India, Austria and Morocco) were written of due to impairment by EUR 10.9 million and tangible assets by EUR 0.8 million. The regular annual impairment testing takes place in Q4/2013.

FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

IFRS 7 requires that the classification of financial instruments at fair value be determined by reference to the source of inputs used to derive the fair value. This classification uses the following three-level hierarchy:

- Level 1 - quoted prices in active markets for identical financial instruments
- Level 2 - inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the financial instrument, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices)
- Level 3 - inputs for the financial instrument that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs)

Classification of financial instruments within the IFRS 7 fair value hierarchy: level 2 for all values as at 30 September 2013. There were no changes for classification within the fair value hierarchy.

Derivatives are initially recorded in the balance sheet at fair value and subsequently measured at fair value at each balance sheet date. All derivatives are carried as assets when fair value is positive and liabilities when fair value is negative. Derivative instruments that are not designated as hedges (hedge accounting) are measured at fair value, and the change in fair value is recognized in the consolidated statement of income. When the derivative is designated as a hedge (hedge accounting) the effective part of the change in fair value is recognized in other comprehensive income. Any ineffective part is recognized in the consolidated statement of income. The foreign exchange forward contracts are measured based on closing date's observable spot exchange rates and the quoted yield curves of the respective currencies. Interest rate swaps are measured based on present value of the cash flows, which are discounted based on the quoted yield curves.
